Soup's On! Join Us for

"SOUPER" ENGAGED

– the employee engagement lunch club.

You're invited to a lively lunchtime gathering of in-house HR and internal communications professionals ready to dive into pressing conversations about employee engagement.

At Souper Engaged, we unite over soup, salads and sandwiches to network, gain insights and collectively problem-solve the employee engagement conundrums we all face. In an intimate, collaborative setting, we go around the table sharing real issues and experiences from our work before opening up the discussion.

Come ready to contribute your perspective as we workshop tangible solutions together.

Brought to you by Enthuse – the employee engagement experts dedicated to helping organisations unlock workforce passion and performance through strategic communication.
